Dear Member:

In the last Meeting of our Group, it was decided to pay back bills owed by the League, it would have left the Treasury with practically no balance. Since returning home, I have discussed the situation with an Attorney with respect to outstanding debts for which the League may be held responsible.

The main question at issue at present is the amount due The Greater New York Fund for tax money from a promotion at Yankee Stadium. I have been informed that the entire League or any or all of the individual Officers may be held liable for this debt. I felt in fairness to myself and all others, that the balance in the Treasury amounting to $476.99 should be held in tact until some disposition is made of this case. I will make it my business in the meantime to investigate and see if anything can be done.

Very truly yours,
